Football Assumes Competitive Lead With Fall Crop Plantings In Thurs. Nite's Home Game With Miami Tech

Miami Tech, a lead for the local team, will invade the Glades Thursday night for the opening game of the local RAMS. The season as a whole is no "crisp" even for a full squad of lettermen, and with several new boys in the regular lineup, Coach Peacock's squad will be out hustling all season.

This year may be a different story as Coach Peacock believes that his line up is just as good as last year and maybe better. Coach is expecting Walter Mosley, fullback, Jim Binkley, tackle and Harry McDonald, end to do some effective work in the coming game.

Walter Mosley, 170 pounds and 5 feet 10 inches tall, has been converted from a quarterback position, where he lettered last year to fullback, and is one of the boys planned to help round out a scrappy, spirited team for the Golden Rams this year. Walter is an all around athlete and also plays good basketball and football.

The South Shore Athletic Council held its meeting Wednesday night and considered problems incident to the current football season as well as other. (Continue on Page Four)

LAKE HARBOR BRIDGE IS SCENE OF TWO WEEKEND ACCIDENTS

Four Alabama tourists took an unexpected dip in the canal at Lake Harbor last Saturday afternoon when a 1952 Pontiac, driven by Mr. Barney Hunt, approached the bridge at too great a speed.

According to Trooper Bertrand who investigated the accident, the car ran up onto the bridge too fast, to find another car already on the one-way bridge, and with no other place to go went thru the railing and into the canal. They were rescued by passersby before Bertrand, who was at Bare Beach at the time of the accident, reached the scene.

The driver, Mr. Barney Hunt, who is associated with Pure Oil Company, Birmingham, Alabama, suffered a severely lacerated finger and cut finger tendon. Other passengers in the car were his wife and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hickox of Florence, Alabama. All four were taken to Belle Glade Hospital, where they were treated for shock. Mr. Hunt received multiple bruises and abrasions around the shoulders and face, and both ladies were hospitalized overnight for observation and treatment. Estimated damage to the car was $1000.00.

The couples were enroute to Key West to visit friends and reportedly were on the R. S. Kent home in Belle Glade.

Another accident at Lake Harbor occurred Sunday afternoon when a 1950 model Ford coach rammed into the rear of a parked car, and several cars had stopped. Driver of the car, who suffered no injuries, was Russell Bradford, Miami, and estimated damages $200, according to Trooper Hicks who investigated.

Outdoor Florida

Indoor, indoor! Everything off before! Leave— but what a better when it's hot!

OMAH NIAHYAM

By HERB MOSHER

Leave Florida in the summer-time and you won't find weather as cool and comfortable as you left at home, unless you drive north right around 2,000 miles, or gain and hold considerable altitude.

Many Floridians, knowing this, go traveling about the North American continent any way (summers) and whether they regret it or not, they'll always remember the heat encountered on the way!

This trip which I am making is a business trip. In many a past year I've sworn off from traveling during the hot summer months for "pleasure." You just don't find "pleasure" along the hot North American highways, after leaving Florida (where we do have some hot days, though not as hot as in the other states along the way). Where are the cool spots? Well, you'll find such in Nova Scotia, in parts of Maine, in much of Canada, in northern Minnesota, in the Black Hills of South Dakota (where it's mostly a mile high) or in some few parts of the far West. Everything else is hot! hotter than at home, by far. Nevertheless, it is interesting to make these comparisons, first hand, and millions of Americans including your truly, are now out on the roads, eating up the dust, taking the black-furnace-like winds, seeing results of the usual summer drought on the crops in the various states along the way, etc.

Oh, yes, there are a few cool spots in the Southern mountains

(places like Highlands, N. C.), but here, it has been my experience, millionaires can live on top of the new cool mountains. So much for that.

Now, what do people think about, if indeed it is possible to think, while roaring along the scenic highways in temperatures of 100 F. or even considerably higher?

In Mississippi, parts of Georgia, Alabama I kept looking at the parched fields and that thinking that every drop of water which falls in that country should be conserved and afterwards the highways in temperatures of 100 F. or even considerably higher?

You see the need for very cheap power to be used for pumping this water. Everywhere there is the need for water! The yards around houses in town surely need much more water to keep the grass alive, the peach and other fruit trees growing. It's not the best which knocks out the grass, the shrubbery, the trees, the crops... it is the lack of water. No area seems to have even 10% of the water which it should have if vegetation is to grow nicely. To thrive, the towns and country to look green and attractive. Even the filling stations along the way need to be "washed down" with just lots and lots of water so they won't be so dirty and grimy, and of course this also applies to business buildings and streets in most towns, too.

Most of the country (Florida excepted) is suffering for lack of enough water.

watching over the calendar in behalf of all Members of the Senate... I think those Senators have done an extremely fine job.

MR. HOLLAND: I thoroughly agree with my distinguished friend, the Senator from Mississippi, in extending the committee, in extending the committee, in extending the committee...

Because of its importance, and because several questions have been raised about this issue, I am quoting herewith a small portion of my remarks during the debate:

To talk about needing laws to stop a union's doing this or that, because it might be helpful to Communists — seems to me to be just like saying we have an orange tree, and that the most on the orange on the tree is deadly poisonous. If these oranges actually are deadly, it is obviously results because of the trunk of the tree or the roots of the tree are infected. Now you wouldn't just knock down those oranges off the tree and leave the trunk and limbs to breed a new crop of deadly fruit. The thing to do is destroy the trunk, the roots, the tree itself. This is the issue in which we should approach the problem before us today...

We live under a government of laws. Duly enacted laws govern our lives. A man's rights, or privileges, are not taken from him without due legal action. However, today we condemn persons with Communist leanings or beliefs. We have been throwing them out of the teaching profession. We even make it difficult for Communists to work in ordinary industry. We are rarely driving them out of all social, professional, and industrial life, and yet while we so prescribe these people, there is no hard and fast law that says it is wrong or illegal to be a Communist or that a Communist cannot work in these fields of endeavor. So today without benefit of law, we pick at them, hold them up to bad publicity and ridicule, punish and persecute them, and finally we throw them out; but not by benefit of law. To conduct ourselves this way — without benefit of law — is to practice the grossest type of discrimination. We are discriminating against them for their thoughts and acts when under present law, what they think and do is completely legal. If we are going to be a government of laws, why do we not meet the problem head on and say, "We do not like communism; we fear it; it is opposite to what we believe in; therefore, anybody who believes in it, advocates it, or who belongs to a political party which itself advocates or believes in communism, is guilty of a crime against the United States?" If we take this step, then we will have a legal basis in which we can proscribe them in our society. The way to face this issue is to meet the problem head on.
